REFORMING CHINA'S MONETARY SYSTEM.

In the summary of memorials published in a late issue, mention was made of three presented by the Tuchi Pu, which all have a very important bearing on China's monetary system, and which testify to the very thorough and sound character of the Ministry of Finance's preparation of its programme for the re-organization of the national system.

The first memorial is one covering a series of eighteen rules dealing with the control and management of the Mints. It will be remembered that on the 15th of the fourth moon of the present year, the Tuchi Pu recommended to the Throne in a memorial that in view of the importance of the work of the Mints in affecting national finance, all the Provincial Mints, no matter whether they manufactured silver or copper coins, should be placed under the absolute control of the Central Mint. A number of Mints, it was suggested, should be closed up. Both recommendations were approved by the Throne.

The present memorial is, therefore, a sequel to the one mentioned above.

The 1st Rule declares that the Tuchi Pu is to have absolute control of all the Mints. The Central Mint is to be situated in Tientsin, and Sub-Mints are to be established in Wuchang, Chengtu, Yunnanfu, Canton and Mukden (temporary). All the Sub-Mints will be controlled by the Central Mint. The principal officers of the Central Mint will be appointed by the Throne upon recommendation of the Tuchi Pu, while those of the Sub-Mints will be appointed by the Tuchi Pu. As much as possible of the machinery, etc., of the Provincial Mints will be made use of by the new ones.

Bullion for the new coinage will be provided to the Mints from the Treasury of the Tuchi Pu and from that of the provinces and custom houses. Equivalent value in full in the new national currency will be given in exchange for the silver bullion and old silver coins thus handed over to the Mints, provided the fineness is above .98.

Local authorities will be made responsible for the safe conveyance of the new coins on their way to the provinces, and railways and steamships under the control of the Yuchuan Pu will be ordered to transport these coins at one half the usual freight rates.

The amount of subsidiary coins to be minted will be decided by the Tuchi Pu, in accordance with the requirements of the money market, but for the present, the Mints are to manufacture 80% principal and 20% subsidiary coins. The number of coins minted must be reported to the Tuchi Pu every ten days, while their fineness and touch must be in accordance with the rules approved by the Throne. From time to time, the coins will be picked out by random and subjected to chemical tests, the error ones being returned to the Mints. The same tests will also be made independently by the Tuchi Pu.

Reports of the receipts and expenditures must be made to the Tuchi Pu every three months by the Central Mint, while the Sub-Mints must report monthly to the Central Mint. All account books must be had once daily to as to be ready for inspection any time. Employment of foreigners by the Sub-Mints must first be reported to and approved by the Central Mint. The same rule applies to all other employees. Finally, by Rule 17, the Viceroy and Governors will be requested to afford protection to the Mints and assistance in the suppression of attempts at counterfeiting.

The second memorial deals with the circulation and redemption of China's new paper currency, and nineteen rules have been drawn up for its guidance. The memorial begins with a brief discussion of the principles which form the basis of a sound system of paper currency. Attention is drawn to the mistakes of the Tang, Sung, Yuan and Ming dynasties in this matter, resulting in many evils to the country.

The nineteen Rules are based on four important principles, the gist of which is as follows:—1st. While the Imperial Government alone enjoys the right of issuing paper currency, the functions are entrusted to one central bank, the Tuchi Pu Government Bank in the present instance. No other organization, official or commercial, shall be permitted to put into circulation paper currency. 2nd. With the exception of France and the United States of America, the other leading nations of the world seem to have no express law limiting the issue of national paper money, for it is feared that the demand depends on and varies with circumstances. China will adopt the same policy. In general, the amount of paper money to be issued will be in accordance with the reserve, maintained for prompt redemption. When there is a stringency in the money market, the Bank will at its discretion and with the approval of the Tuchi Pu make emergency issues. 3rd. The successful circulation of paper currency depends entirely on the confidence of the public. Excessive issues without adequate preparations for their redemption would plunge the national finances into irretrievable confusion, were a panic to arise in the money market. It is imperative that China, venturing for the first time into the realm of a national paper currency, should maintain her credit. Besides the silver reserve, only convertible bonds will be accepted as security for the issue, so that prompt redemption of the paper money is assured. 4th. Since the Bank enjoys the right of issuing paper money, it should pay the Government a certain amount of tax, a rule which is found in every country. In view of the poverty of the market in China and the high rates of interest, it is proposed to postpone deciding the rate of taxation till the second year of the issue, when the profits of the Bank will then be evident. The rate of taxation will be increased at three different periods so as to lighten the burden of the Bank.

The memorial concludes by stating that when the new paper currency is distributed among the provinces, it must be accepted in the payment of all taxes, duties, official salaries and soldiers' pay, and be regarded as legal tender in all commercial transactions. It will be redeemable at all places where the Tuchi Pu Bank is situated. The metropolitan and provincial authorities will see to it that persons who attempt to mutilate or counterfeit this paper money be promptly arrested and severely punished.

Regarding the issue of paper money by official and commercial banks, which will interfere with the circulation of the national paper currency, the rule has been adopted and has received Imperial sanction that the recall of 20% of their notes in circulation every year, so that at the end of five years all will have been recalled. Regarding the more important government banks, the Ministry will communicate with the high authorities in charge of them, so as to arrive at some way of their redeeming their notes now in circulation in the Empire. The paper money that has been issued by the Tuchi Pu Bank will also be recalled, as evidence of uniform treatment of all banking institutions in this matter.

There are altogether 19 Rules dealing with the issue of China's new paper currency. The 1st Rule stipulates that this currency will be known as the Tuchi Pu Bank Notes, and will be redeemable at their face value at the Bank and its branch offices in the new national currency. The notes will be in four denominations, viz., $1, $5, $10, and $100. The number to be issued of each denomination and the addition of new denominations will be submitted to the approval of the Tuchi Pu. A reserve fund in cash of fifty per cent of the total value of the notes issued will be kept on hand for the purpose of redeeming them. Convertible securities will be deposited, to secure the redemption of the remaining fifty per cent of the issued notes. The "cash" mentioned above shall consist of the new national currency. Gold and silver bullion, gold and silver coins now in circulation may substitute it, but the total value of such bullion and gold and silver coins must not exceed in value one half of the reserve "cash." Until China has a large supply of national bonds and securities in general, the remaining fifty per cent of the reserve fund shall consist of securities and of the capital and reserve fund of the Bank. Besides this reserve fund to prepare for the redemption of the notes, two and a half per cent in cash of the current deposits (not over 2 months) will be set aside for the same purpose. So much for protecting holders of the notes.

The notes are to be accepted at their face value, no discount or premium of any amount to be allowed. The Tuchi Pu Bank will be permitted, when occasion demands, to make emergency issues, in addition to the issues outlined above. For this privilege, it will pay the Government annually six per cent of the total value of the notes issued. As soon as an infected condition of money is observed, the Bank will begin redeeming such emergency notes. Holders of the new paper currency may demand its value in coins at any of the Tuchi Pu Bank offices during office hours. The Bank must, however, be allowed time in order to transport its reserve fund to branch offices, in case it is at the latter places that a large sum in notes is suddenly presented. The headquarters of the Bank will be in Tientsin, and the principal branches will be in Tientsin, Shanghai, Hankow, Canton and Mukden. Until China has a full supply of the new national currency or at places where the new currency has not arrived, the paper notes will be redeemed in the silver coins and silver taels now in use in that region. The rate of exchange will be as follows: one and a half taels of the new currency will be regarded as equivalent to one Kuping tael, which will then be reckoned in accordance with local rates. Holders of silver coins and silver taels may have the same exchanged into the new paper currency, in accordance with the manner described in the Currency Laws.

The Tuchi Pu Bank is also required to send full reports on the amount of its paper currency in circulation and the reserve fund in hand to the Tuchi Pu every day. Every Saturday this information must be published in the official gazettes. The auditors of the Bank will have full access to the account books dealing with the circulation of notes and the reserve fund, and will report on the same to the Tuchi Pu.

There are a number of Rules dealing with mutilated notes and their redemption, and provisions are made for the severe punishment of counterfeiters.

A graduated scale of taxation on profits (less 6% interest) arising from the issue of the notes is also provided, beginning with seven per cent in the first period, twenty per cent, the second period and thirty per cent, during the third period.

The third memorial deals with the question of issuing of notes by commercial bodies other than the Tuchi Pu Bank. It has already been mentioned that banks with notes already circulating outside are obliged to withdraw them in the next five years. In the meantime no others will be permitted to issue any notes, whether they be official or commercial organizations. Infringement of this rule will be denounced to the Throne for severe punishment. —Peking Daily News.

SOVEREIGNTY OF SEAS.

SHADOWS OVER THE PACIFIC OCEAN.

Mr. Gerald Fisher is contributing a series of articles to the Daily Graphic under the title of "The Sovereignty of the Seas." The twelfth article deals with the position in the Far East, and more particularly in regard to the United States and Japan. We make the following extracts:—

The Japanese alliance expires in 1915; it cannot be renewed. If renewal was possible before, it became impossible when the American Fleet visited Australia in 1908, and suggested to the people of the Commonwealth that Godlin is the friend, not the foe. If no conflict arises between now and then to make the name of the Pacific Ocean an irony, the British Navy, reinforced by, let us hope, a goodly number of Fleet units, contributed not only by Australia and New Zealand, but also by Canada, South Africa, and India, will once more earn for itself the blessing bestowed on the peacemakers. The Pacific Fleet will live up to its name. It will be expensive; but it will be well worth while. But the Pacific Fleet will have to be a real instrument of war, capable of meeting any enemy which can assail the position of the Empire in that ocean, not a mere skeleton enemy, a shadow of things to come.

WILL PEACE LAST.

A large assumption has been made above, however—namely, that the peace of the Pacific will be preserved till 1915, and the status quo maintained. There are grave indications that this may not be the case. I cannot advance arguments to prove it by chapter and verse, but there are a hundred indications which show that a collision between Japan and the United States is approaching. The Americans live in a Fool's Paradise in this matter. They appear to think that the Japanese are, and must eternally be, grateful to Commodore Perry for having opened their country, willingly. The Japanese are only grateful in so far as contact with the West has armed their hands against Western greed and aggression. Their main desire is to use the power thus acquired to cry "Hands off!" to the White Man. The insistence by the Americans on their right to trade on equal terms with the Japanese in Manchuria and Korea; the treatment of the subjects of the latter Power on the Pacific slope—either of these causes of disagreement will provide Japan with a casus belli at the desired moment, and one which will, in all probability, put her in the right in the eyes of the world. The Japanese know how to apply the art of jiu-jitsu to international politics.

IN THE EVENT OF CONFLICT.

In any war in which Japan engages it will be with an eye to a third party—namely, to China. Japan seeks the undisputed hegemony of the Far East. That she is right in her estimate of the chances of conflict I think admits of no doubt. The United States are doomed to suffer for their tenacity in trusting an inexperienced finger into the workings of an alien life, as Kipling puts it in another connection. Their main fleet is in the Atlantic; but the powerful intentions of the East will not let them transfer their naval strength to the Pacific, where it is most likely to be wanted. Whatever strategy the American Fleet adopt, a crushing defeat is inevitable, unless the Japanese, by some unlikely blunder, deliver themselves into the enemy's hands.

But the effects thereof will not be felt solely by the United States, and that is where the situation is serious for us. Could we allow their Navy the use of our ports, we might revolutionize the situation. With coaling facilities at Cape Town, at Colombo, at Singapore, and at Hongkong or Labuan, the American Fleet might take the route via the Indian Ocean, and arrive in a condition to fight. But our alliance with Japan forbids any such amenities being extended to it, even if we cannot be held by the terms of our treaty obliged actively to help Japan. What the effect will be on the Australian States it is not difficult to forecast. When the White Man, and, more especially the Anglo-Saxon (so-called), is fighting the Yellow, not all the treaties in the world will prevent the sympathies of the Australian going out to the White Man. It is quite conceivable that the Commonwealth, disregarding the engagements of the Mother Country, may open its ports to the Americans. That would mean the dissolution of the Empire.

WHAT WE MUST DO.

If we rise now to the height of a great conception—and I mean by we all the nations which owe allegiance to King George—these dangers will never arise. An Imperial Navy, dominating the Pacific as the Royal Navy does the seas of Europe, will preserve the peace. By stilling unrest and by promoting confidence among the Britons of the overseas States, it will prevent at once of a consistently firm yet friendly policy being adopted towards our present ally—and Japan asks for nothing better—and will also demonstrate to the United States that the British Empire is able to guard its own head, and that, while we welcome their friendship, and look for a lasting bond of amity between the English speaking peoples, we desire nothing further of them—least of all the support of their sea-power.

WEATHER-FORMCAST AND STORM-WARNINGS ISSUED
FROM THE HONGKONG
OBSERVATORY.

METEOROLOGICAL SIGNALS.

Meteorological signals are hoisted on the mast in front of the Water Police Station at Tsim Sha Teui for the information of masters of vessels leaving the port. They do not necessarily imply that bad weather is expected here:—

- Signal No.
1. A CONE point upwards indicates a Typhoon to the North of the Colony.
  2. A CONE point upwards and DRUM below indicates a Typhoon to the North-East of the Colony.
  3. A DRUM indicates a Typhoon to the East of the Colony.
  4. A CONE point downwards and DRUM below indicates a Typhoon to the South-East of the Colony.
  5. A CONE point downwards indicates a Typhoon to the South of the Colony.
  6. A CONE point downwards and BALL below indicates a Typhoon to the South-West of the Colony.
  7. A BALL indicates a Typhoon to the West of the Colony.
  8. A CONE point upwards and BALL below indicates a Typhoon to the North-West of the Colony.

Red Signals indicate that the centre is believed to be more than 300 miles away from the Colony.

Black Signals indicate that the centre is believed to be less than 300 miles away from the Colony.

The above signals will, as heretofore, be hoisted only when typhoons exist in such positions or are moving in such directions that information regarding them is considered to be of importance to the Colony or to shipping leaving the harbor.

These signals are repeated at the Harbour Office, H.M.S. Tamar, Green Island Signal Mast, and the Flagstaff on the premises of the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company at Kowloon.

URGENT SIGNAL.

In addition to the above, when it is expected that the wind may increase to full typhoon force at any moment, the following Urgent Signal will be made at the Water Police Station, and repeated at the Harbour Office:—

THREE EXPLOSIVE BOMBS, AT INTERVALS OF TEN SECONDS.

A Black Cross will be hoisted at the same time, superior to the other shapes.

NIGHT SIGNALS.

The following Night Signals will be exhibited from the Flagstaff on the roof of the Water Police Station at Kowloon, the Harbour Office Flagstaff, and H.M.S. Tamar.

I. Three Lights Vertical, Green, Green, Green, indicates that a typhoon is believed to be situated more than 300 miles from the Colony.

II. Three Lights Vertical, Green, Red, Green, indicates that a typhoon is believed to be situated less than 300 miles from the Colony.

III. Three Lights Vertical, Red, Green, Red, indicates that the wind may be expected to increase to full typhoon force at any moment.

No. III. Signal will be accompanied by the Explosive Bombs, as above, in the event of the information conveyed by this signal being first published by night.

These Night Signals will be substituted for the Day Signals at sunset, and will, when necessary, be altered during the night.

SUPPLEMENTARY WARNINGS.

For the benefit of Native Craft and Fishing Vessels, a "Cone" will be exhibited from each of the following stations during the time that any of the above Day Signals are hoisted in the Harbour.

Gap Rock. Aberdeen.
Waglan. San Ki Wan.
Stanley. Sai Kung.
Cape Collinson. Shek Tin Tai.

This will indicate that there is a dangerous somewhere in the China Sea, and that a Black Warning is hoisted in the Harbour.

Further details can always be given in Chinese, on demand, by signal from the Observatory.

OVERTIME.

To our bitter regret we find ourselves forced to take notice of the commission in Hongkong of two of the four great sins which cry to Heaven for vengeance. We have little sympathy for employers who only work in their spare time, and to whom the realities of life are most apparent at one of the four private bars in a radius of less than a thousand yards. At least innocent places, too, they appear to appreciate the joie de vivre, but in their employer's office never. "Why should I," said one of these half-men, "why should I do more work than I am paid for?" To us it seems that he is condemned out of his own mouth. "The talk of the lips of a fool tendeth only to perjury." It is a pity that in Hongkong so many people who complain of the expensiveness of life should eat too much, drink too much, dress too much, loaf too much, and talk too much nonsense. If in an office a sudden rush of business comes in, every employed worth his salt ought to, and will, cheerfully work away, no matter how late the hour, and he will never think of being paid "overtime" for it. We cannot imagine a man who is a gentleman or aspires to be a gentleman or even one who only thinks he is a gentleman being so base and unworthy as not to be willing to work an hour or two extra in case of need, without meanly clamouring to be paid for it. But there is another aspect of the subject of working "overtime." The law of contract and the custom of merchants control both the time and wages of employer, and employee. A scaman, for instance, has no "hours of work." He is on duty all the time, and the essence of his contract is that for just so much wages he gives his labour, all his strength and all his knowledge and his skill for the safety of the ship and the success of her venture. A skipper who tried to spur his subordinates to greater effort by promises of extra pay might find himself a dishonoured man at the end of the voyage. His owners would, and with good reason too, refuse to honour such a promise. Conditions on land are very different. In many offices a man specially contracts to work for just so many hours for just so much pay, and the conditions of his service are constant and unvarying. In these large business houses it is customary to pay a clerk for that fixed number of hours. If he is asked to work for more he is, of course, considered as an extra man for the time being, and is paid accordingly. There is a world of difference between heads of Departments, or managers, and mere scriveners, in this respect. The far more responsible man is far more highly paid, and to him more duration of working hours has no sort of relation to his salary. At the worst he may swear at pressure of business keeping him in the office till nine, or later, so that his dinner is spoilt and he has lost his game of bridge. It never occurs to him to make the firm pay him for it. But a poor man with poor pay is under totally different conditions. If he works during hours that are not his employer's hours, and does so for the benefit and at the wish of his employer, the latter must pay him for this extra work. Nothing can be clearer, nothing can be more reasonable, than this. If a man enters upon certain employment on a distinct understanding that any work done by him for his employer over and above that fixed amount for which he is paid fixed wages, will be remunerated at a rate agreed upon, or a rate usual in that kind of commerce or trade, he is entitled by every law to that remuneration. To refuse it to him is robbery. The British Government factories, arsenals, etc., generally pay good wages for those extra hours of work which service exigencies occasionally demand. It is very saddening to see Post Office clerks at an undeserved disadvantage in this respect. These servants of the Public enter the Post Office Department on a distinct pledge by the Government of the King that they will be given certain pay, pension and other privileges in return for their services. One of these privileges is the certainty of service, the fixed number of hours, the regularity and order of every condition of duty. If a Government in its half-realized scheme of retrenchment denies to a few clerks a few dollars for working many long hours in a trying climate more than they are paid for, it is exhibiting the characteristics of a thrifty Scotch pawnbroker rather than the dignity and just dealing of a department of the King's Service. If an employee smarting under a sense of ill-treatment should protest, his dismissal has been known to follow and punish his temerity. This is called Oppression of the Poor. Refusal to pay a man the overtime 'customary in any office or trade or business, when he has worked for his employer's benefit (whether that employer be a Government department or a manufacturing firm or a bank or anything) at all hours and on Sundays as well, is called 'Defrauding labourers of their wages.' Both these crimes cry to Heaven for vengeance.

FRANCE PEACH.

The innocent always suffer worse pains than the guilty. A gang of detestable bandits have been preying long enough upon the quiet hard working Chinese merchants who have put much money for many years into foreign pockets. Europeans and Chinese are united in at least one hatred. Pirates are hostes humani generis. Who should know more about the "terror by night" and "the destruction that wasteth at noon day" than the suffering people of the Canton River delta, and those whose children have been kidnapped and whose property has been ravaged by those shedders of blood who have dared to add the word "Colowan" to those names which our memory is painfully forced to retain as reminders of the bitter truth that there are still in this world murderers, pauci tempestates, demons in human shape. The really honest and virtuous men among the Chinese who still preserve some vestiges of the teaching of the sages of olden time, who have not been "educated up" to the doctrine that justifies any cruelty and any treachery as the means to success, have proved that those of us were mistaken who imagined that the Chinese had become so oblivious of international justice as cynically to quiesce in an attitude on the wrong side of equanimity when pirates insolently show their contempt of the King of Portugal and the Emperor of China, and their scorn of the laws of the Manchus, while trampling under foot the most elementary laws of God and man. The Chinese Authorities have agreed for the time being to sink all previous grievances against the Portuguese of Macao. Last week they were at daggers drawn over boundary questions and matters of jurisdiction with these puzzled Lusitanians. Now the Chinese sailors are glad to help maintain the naval cordon for the sake of peace and order. We make no comment on the heart-rending sacrifice of life that this trade business must, we fear, still continue to incur. A European officer universally respected, and loved by those who are privileged to be his friends, now lies wounded, under the patronage of San Januario. In all this unhappy picture there is one bright panel. The Chinese military and naval officials have exhibited an international courtesy, and not only a sound knowledge, but a business-like appreciation of the requirements of international law which is really very comforting, and very consoling at this period of broken treaties and decided agreements.

At the meeting of the National Rifle Association at Bisleigh Great Britain won the Kolapore Cup. England won the Elcho Shield. The Rajah of Kolapore's Imperial Cup was won last year by Canada with a score of 765. Teams of eight compete and the distances are 300, 500 and 600 yards. The Elcho Shield is open to teams of eight from England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales and the distances are 300, 500 and 1,000 yards. The Shield was won last year by England with a score of 177.

REPLYING to a deputation from the Associated Chambers of Commerce in reference to dock accommodation on the East coast, Mr. Reginald McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, said that two floating docks were being constructed which would take the largest vessels afloat. The dry dock at Rosyth would be completed in four years and a half. The run-bay, he added, was unsuitable as a naval base. If Liverpool decided to build, unassisted by the Government, a dock a thousand feet long and one hundred and twenty feet long wide, available for naval purposes, the nation would be grateful to Liverpool.

A YAU-MA-TI SQUABBLE.

DESPERATE CHINAMAN WHO JUMPED INTO THE HARBOUR TO ESCAPE ARREST.

Before the Chief Justice, Sir Francis Piggott, at the Criminal Sessions this morning, To Chuk and Chan Kam Sam were charged with maliciously cutting and wounding a boat-coolie with intent to cause grievous bodily harm at Yau-ma-ti on the 19th May last. Hon. Mr. W. Rees-Davies, K.C., Attorney-General, instructed by Mr. H. L. Danys, Sr., from the Crown Solicitor's office, prosecuted, while the prisoners were undefended.

The following was the jury:—Messrs. W. T. Stebbing (foreman), A. J. da Cruz Roxo, T. J. Richards, D. T. Steel, A. J. Bursley, J. B. Scott and W. Taylor.

The Attorney-General stated that the two prisoners were charged with cutting and wounding another man, which was unfortunately a frequent occurrence in the Colony. The victim of the assault was on the date in question on board a coal-boat with his foreman at Yau-ma-ti, when the two prisoners came on board and asked the foreman to lend them some money. This the foreman declined to do, whereupon the man became rowdy. On the boat-coolie going to his master's assistance, the first prisoner stabbed the deceased in the middle of the back and the second prisoner, in the man's own language, struck him with a "small sword." The prisoner then threw the victim into the water. When about to be arrested, one of the prisoners was in a barge and jumped into the harbour. He swam across to Tai-kok-uni but was eventually arrested. Evidence having been called the jury returned a verdict of guilty and each of the prisoners was sentenced to five years' hard labour.

ATTEMPTED ARMED ROBBERY.

WHIPPING IS INCLUDED IN SENTENCE BY THE CHIEF JUSTICE.

Before the Chief Justice, Sir Francis Piggott, at the Criminal Sessions this morning, Wong Sin and Teoi Sam were indicted on charges of attempted armed robbery at Wanchai on the 17th June last. Hon. Mr. W. Rees-Davies, K.C., Attorney-General, instructed by Mr. H. L. Danys, Sr., from the Crown Solicitor's office, prosecuted while the prisoners were undefended.

The jury was as follows:—Messrs. W. T. Stebbing (foreman), A. J. da Cruz Roxo, T. J. Richards, D. T. Steel, A. J. Bursley, J. B. Scott and W. Taylor.

The Attorney-General stated that the offence with which prisoners were charged took place at a house opposite No. 2 Police Station at Wanchai on the 17th June last. On that day the prosecutrix was in her house with her little daughter nine years of age, her husband being away at work. Four men came to her house saying they were looking for somebody. The first prisoner clutched the woman by the throat. The second prisoner, who carried a knife, gagged her and threatened to stab her to death if she said anything. The child cried out and her screams attracted some people, who went upstairs. This started the four men and they bolted out of the house. Both prisoners were identified as being among the four men. A European Sergeant, a Chinese watchman and Mr. Lysaght gave chase and the two prisoners were eventually caught; one being stopped by an Indian watchman. When the first prisoner was caught, he took a knife out of his pocket and threw it into the harbour, from which it was afterwards secured by a diver.

When the first prisoner was arrested he threw down some gags, wire and string and when searched, other implements of the vocation of a burglar were found upon him. The other two men were not discovered.

Evidence having been called, the jury, without retiring, returned a unanimous verdict of guilty. His Lordship sentenced each of the prisoners to three years' imprisonment with hard labour and in doing so said he thought it was a case where he should administer whipping and awarded each of the prisoners twelve strokes of the birch.

The Attorney-General—I think it'd be a help to the Police if the two watchmen are recommended.

His Lordship—Oh, yes, they should be given something out of the funds. I don't know what funds there are.

The Attorney-General—I shall represent the matter.

ROBBERY AT MACAO.

REVOLVERS PREFERRED TO SILVER.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Macao, 17th July, 1910.

A case of theft was reported to the Procurator of the Department of Chinese Affairs yesterday which, in its details, shows preference on the part of certain Chinese thieves for fire-arms to silverware and valuables. The report lodged with the authorities concerning the theft is to the effect that a private ricksha, with its owner as passenger, was drawn from No. 15, Chum-am-bro, just below the Boa Vista Hotel, to the steamer leaving for Hongkong yesterday (Saturday) morning, the s.s. Sai Tai. After the gentleman had alighted and got on board to proceed to Hongkong, the coolie drove the ricksha to Barra where he abandoned the vehicle. He then returned to the house and was apparently conversant with the movements of the occupants. Undetected the man gained admission into his master's bedroom and made straight for a wardrobe where two loaded revolvers were kept. He opened the door of the almirah and extracted therefrom the fire-arms and a few loose subsidiary coins that were lying on one of the shelves. Silverware on the mantelpiece and other ornaments of value about the room did not attract the man's cupidity. With the revolvers safely secreted the coolie left the room as stealthily as he had entered it.

The disappearance of the ricksha from the entrance at its door-way led to inquiry being made for the coolie when it dawned on the lady of the house that he had taken French leave. Suspicion once aroused a thorough examination was made of the private apartments in the house with the result stated above—the discovery of the loss of the revolvers and a small amount of money.

A report was forthwith made, as is customary in such cases, to the Department of Chinese Affairs, and it is a strange commentary on the way official departments are conducted in this city when I was told that the principal official did not put in an appearance that day until one o'clock in the afternoon, and when the report was actually made he appeared to receive it with very little grace. Needless to say, by this time the thief had got a fair start of the authorities and at this writing it is not surprising to state that the man is still enjoying his freedom. The missing vehicle was not found by the officials concerned in its recovery. Strange to say, when the owner returned from Hongkong the same afternoon and was told of the theft, he stated on an expedition on his own and managed to recover his lost ricksha at Barra. In presence of these facts it is not surprising that more or less general complaints are heard of the manner in which one of the most important departments of Government in this Colony is being administered.

COLOWAN UNDER FIRE.

PIRATES' BATTERIES. SILENCED.

SHOCKING EFFECT OF NAVAL SHELLS.

INCLEMENT WEATHER DRIVES BLOCKADING FLEET INTO PORT.

Macao, 17th July, 1910.

In continuance of my previous despatches I have now to relate another chapter in the history of the blockade of Colowan with the arrival of the cruiser Rainha Dona Amalia last evening and the commencement afresh of operations against the pirates in Colowan.

At 4 p.m. on the 16th instant (Saturday) the Dona Amalia dropped anchor at Ponta Cabrita in the Macao roadstead. This morning, 17th inst., she landed a detachment of one hundred marines which was strengthened by fifty men from the Patria. The contingent was placed under the command of First-Lieutenant Carvalho Brandão. Shortly after disembarkation operations were commenced in real earnest by the combined naval and military forces. The gunboat Patria assumed the lead and opened fire on the island with her heavy guns. Cannonading was sustained for two hours and at 10 a.m. the guns from both the Patria and Macao ceased fire. To-morrow (the 18th inst.) operations will be resumed by the naval force.

Escape of the Pirates.

It is said, and there is good ground for the report, that the greater number of the pirates have already escaped from Colowan by way of Hak-sa beach which lies to the east of the island and which apparently had not been vigilantly guarded. The effectiveness of the naval cordon may well be criticised by those who have a poor conception of the position of the group of islands of which Colowan is one. One has only to know Colowan's situation in order to thoroughly understand how difficult a completely effective blockade in the expanse of water opening out to the boundless sea must be.

Fishing Boats Commandeered.

The report, to which I am giving so much credence, of the successful eluding of the Portuguese and Chinese fleets by the slippery pirates, to whom the waters in the neighbourhood of Macao are perfectly familiar, comes to me from a source which I have no reason to doubt. The information which was vouchsafed to me is that two gangs of pirates numbering about sixty in all made good their escape under cover of the darkness to a place called Sam Kok near the island of Lap Sap Mi which lies in the roadstead of Macao. From this temporary haven of refuge they commandeered three fishing junks and compelled their owners and crews to receive them on board. Terrified by the menacing attitude towards them by these dreaded rovers of the deep the fisher folk submitted to their mandates and in addition were compelled to ship a few piculs of rice on board, besides other provisions before they set sail for the hospitable shores of some unknown islands in this neighbourhood.

If these desperate men have betaken themselves to Chinese territory they have little hope of surviving the executioners' axe in the "Pottery field" at Canton, for the elders of nearly every village round about the scene of last week's tragedies have been warned against harbouring any strangers arriving from the coast. It is not at all improbable that the fugitives will make for one or more points of disembarkation on the shores of the mainland or at Lantau within the New Territories of Hongkong. If the latter happen to be the case, and the lines I now send you come under the lynx eye of the Hongkong Police, your watchful guardians of the Peace in the insular dependency of the Colony will, beyond any doubt, capture the gangs of undesirable immigrants.

Governor Marques Visits Colowan.

This afternoon (Sunday) His Excellency the Governor, Senhor Marques, left Macao for Colowan. He was accompanied by the Chief of Staff, Colonel F. Rodrigues, and his aide-de-camp, Mr. Ruellia. The Governor's visit was made himself personally acquainted with conditions on the island and also to inspect the plans of operations in the "seat of war." His Excellency and suite returned to Macao later in the evening.

Death of Sergeant Perico.

There was found on the hills, yesterday, the dead body of Second-Sergeant Joaquim Perico. By the appearance of the body it is surmised that the poor fellow must have been dead quite two days. An examination of the body did not reveal the presence of any bullet wound, but there was a slight abrasion of the cheek. Perico's body will not be brought over to Macao for interment as was at first supposed, but he will be buried on the island, it having been decided to bury even the Portuguese dead at Colowan.

Naval Cordon Broken Up.

The threatened appearance of the weather coupled with the ominously falling barometer and the heavy swell in the roadstead have led to the breaking up of the Naval Cordon and as I write the Units of the Chinese fleet are foraging into lies heading for the inner harbour of Macao. The pirates have thus conspired with the clerk of the weather to afford them their last means of escape from their lair. The state of the weather will probably determine the abandonment tomorrow of the contemplated renewed assault on the last of their strongholds, the necessity for which will have gone by their escape on account of the threatened storm which has driven the mosquito fleet into shelter.

Pirates Dismembered.

I have heard it stated by persons who have returned from the "front" that one of the pirates' strongholds, which had been discovered, was visited by the Portuguese troops after the severe cannonading yesterday morning. There the terrific effect of the shells from the Patria's guns could be seen, as the shocking scene of the dismembered remains of bodies, presumably those of pirates, were seen lying about. A hand was discovered in a promiscuous heap of blood-stained rags, a quantity of Chinese medicinal herbs, which were supposed to have been used for the staying of the flow of blood from the wounds. None have been discovered hors-de-combat and the supposition is that the wounded and the slain have been carried away by the pirates in their flight. The belief is held that those of the pirates who have not yet fled from Colowan are in hiding at a place called Sai-Chi-Wan.

Later.

Mosquito Fleet in Harbour.

The whole of the Chinese mosquito fleet are safely sheltered in the placid waters of the inner harbour. Only the old Po-chen-kan, Admiral Li's training ship, electing to ride the threatened storm out in the roadstead. I have learnt, on good authority, that the cruiser Rainha Dona Amalia will be returning to Hongkong in view of the approaching typhoon, her commander having deemed it inadvisable to remain in such an exposed situation as that of her present anchorage (The Dona Amalia arrived in Hongkong at 11 o'clock to-day.—Ed. H. K. T.).

Chinese Fire Silenced.

The Portuguese troops can now move over Colowan with greater freedom than before, when the appearance of any single European soldier in the open furnished a moving target for the native "snipers." This fact leads to the conclusion that the (frightful lessons taught by the shells from the Portuguese gunboats have struck terror into the heart of the pirate chieftain who has since decided to throw up the ghost. The complete subjugation of the island will now be a matter of just a few days only. Among the captured prisoners was a Chinese woman whom report credits as being the wife of the pirate chief.

Naval Commander's Thanks.

Commander Matta d'Oliveira of the gunboat Macao has written to the press to thank the anonymous subscribers for the gift of wine, tobacco and other comforts to the soldiers and marines engaged in action. He has expressed his men's appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the citizens of Macao.

NAVAL BOMBARDMENT RECOMMENCED.

"PATRIA" AND "MACAO" SHELL PIRATICAL STRONGHOLDS.

COMMODORE WU GUEST OF GOVERNOR OF MACAO.

Hongkong, 17th July, 11.30 a.m.

In his letter of yesterday morning, published in the Hongkong Telegraph last evening, our Macao correspondent reported that operations against the pirates at Colowan, which had been suspended under the flag of truce held by the Chinese on the island, would be re-commenced yesterday afternoon at one o'clock if by that hour the pirate chief and the revolted inhabitants of Colowan did not unconditionally surrender their arms and persons to the Portuguese. It was hoped that the truce granted would have given the pirates time to come to their senses and, in effect, yield to the inevitable fate which no amount of procrastination will succeed in warding off. The subjugation of the desperate characters infesting the groups of islands near Macao was as much in the interest of Portuguese administration as it was in that of the Chinese Provincial Government who, in duty bound, and by agreement with Admiral Sir Arthur Moore, as delegate of the British Government, was compelled to ensure the safety of Chinese and British trade, afloat and ashore, in the riverine districts of the Canton delta. It is, therefore, not surprising that the Chinese and Portuguese Governments should, for the nonce, sink their little differences over the boundary question and

Co-operate in Friendly Intercourse.

In ridding the insular possessions adjacent to Macao of the human volutes who have far too long preyed upon the innocent lambs of Chinese merchants and traders by their wanton depredations which stop neither at kidnapping nor murder to satisfy the lust of their greed for ill-gotten gains. We have before already noted the effective maintenance of the naval cordon round about Taipa, Colowan and Wong Kam. The cordon has since been rendered even a closer one with the arrival of the Portuguese gunboat Patria from Macao, the cruiser Rainha Dona Amalia from Hongkong last evening and the increase in the Chinese fleet, originally of four vessels, to fourteen, yesterday. Included among this fleet was observed in the distant offing the towering hull of the old Po-chen-kan, now Admiral Li Chuan's training ship for the Whampoa naval cadets. To complete the long line of vessels, a large number of small boats, which might be at all times possible, a large revenue cutter lies at anchor half-way between Hongkong and Macao at the mouth of the delta.

Commodore Wu at Government House.

The Commander-in-Chief of this formidable little fleet, in point of numbers, Commodore Wu, was the guest of His Excellency Senior Marques at lunch at Government House, on Friday. There were also present at the table the Staff Officers and members of the suite of the Portuguese Governor. We have authoritative information that the Chinese Naval Officer expressed to His Excellency his deep sense of appreciation of the action of the Portuguese in adopting such effective measures to exterminate the pirate border root and branch from Colowan. The assurance was given that the presence of the naval units of the Kwang-tung Squadron in the neighbourhood of Colowan was for no other purpose than to act in friendly co-operation for the maintenance of the cordon and to prevent the pirates from fleeing into Chinese territory where they will be regarded as the most unwelcome guests. The cordial expressions of good-will on the part of the Chinese representative are mutually reciprocated at Macao.

Bombardment re-commenced to-day.

Macao's ultimatum to the Chinese pirate chiefs expired at 4 p.m. yesterday (Saturday). It was generally supposed that by that hour a withering fire would have been opened on the island from the batteries of the gunboats Patia and Macao. But the authorities conducting operations were awaiting the arrival of the cruiser Rainha Dona Amelia of whose departure from Hongkong to Macao at noon yesterday they had been apprised by cable despatch. The Rainha Dona Amelia was signalled off the coast shortly before four o'clock in the afternoon. She lay at anchor in the offing and awaited the flood tide before she picked up the outer channel and moved up to Colowan. This she did at eight o'clock last night. Eyes were watched her port lights from the Praia Grande and when she dropped anchor in front of Colowan anticipations ran high of subsequent developments in the night.

Naval Contingent Disembarked.

The plan was that she was to land a naval contingent of 150 men last night to reinforce the troops on land which the men from the gunboat Patia is now of a total strength of some five hundred men.

Saturday night proved uneventful. By this morning, the pirate chiefs had not complied with their signals for an honest truce and surrender. Accordingly, at 8 a.m. sharp the of the heavy artillery of the Patia was the first signal that a bombardment of Colowan had re-commenced, with unmistakable determination. The lighter guns of the patrol-boat Macao followed in rapid succession and soon a continuous cannonade of shot and shell was directed against the pirates' inaccessible strongholds. The boom of the guns could be distinctly heard by the passengers on board the Zui Tai on her way from Macao to Hongkong this morning. For fully an hour those travelling by the Macao steamer to-day had the rare privilege of watching a miniature bombardment well out of the zone of operations and safely outwith the line of the deadly fire. What the dreadful consequences of to-day's fearful onslaught will be, it is yet too early for us to be able to report. Communication between Colowan and Macao being maintained as in a state of siege, private despatches have sometimes to arrive; but we expect to be fully posted by our well-informed correspondent to-morrow morning. Moreover, at the time of the despatch of the Hongkong Telegraph's representative's latest message from Macao, it was the plan to keep up the bombardment throughout the day unless, of course, capitulation is made in the course of the day. While firing is kept up there is no possibility of particulars being gathered by our energetic correspondent for transmission.

Pirates' strongholds located.

The location of the pirates' strongholds by the Portuguese scouts, no doubt, led to the determination for the pursuance of the drastic measures which called forth nothing less than the concerted action of the warships of Portugal in these waters. In certain quarters these shocking reprisals are deprecated which, unfortunately, cannot discriminate between the innocent and the guilty, and women and children from the bloodthirsty cutthroats—the human parasites—who thrive and have their being on the ill-gotten gains of peaceful villages and honest traders. By others, again, it is thought that no measures can be severe or repressive enough to put down once for all the state of lawlessness on the very borders of our civilization. Here we have the disciples of two schools diametrically opposed in sentiments and opinions, each having equally good and sound arguments in support of their contentions.

Portuguese sergeant dead.

Sad to relate, Sergeant Pinco, who had gone to the "front," was found dead on the island of Colowan yesterday. Our representative was unable to ascertain the cause of death. It has not yet transpired whether the sergeant was killed by an enemy's bullet or died from natural causes. The fact, nevertheless, remains that his corpse has been brought over to Macao and will be buried in due course with full military honours. Deceased left a widow and a one child at Macao to mourn his untimely end, and with whom the greatest sympathy is felt.

More Troops for Colowan.

The tow-boat, which was purchased at Shanghai, for harbour work at Macao, is rendering signal service to the Military Transport and Commissariat Department. She has kept up regular and rapid communication between the Settlement and its insular dependency ever since the commencement of hostilities. Yesterday, at 6.30 p.m., the tow-boat left the Naval Pier in the Inner Harbour with commissariat and a further detachment of 25 men from the local Garrison for Colowan.

Officers' Leave Suspended.

Officers having families at Macao have had their leave suspended, and all, without exception, have to take up their quarters in the barracks for any emergency. Although the City itself is unworried and excitement is apparent over Macao's "little war" there is no denying the truth that in military circles the Colony has never been so much aroused since the days of the storming and capture of Patalia.

The gunboat "Macao."

Those of our readers who have followed the narrative of the Colowan campaign since its inception will have noted the part made by our representative on the spot of the remarkable accuracy of the shooting on the part of the Chinese. Further evidence, if any were needed, has been forthcoming to-day proving the correctness of our correspondent's report in an authoritative statement which he was able to obtain yesterday that plates of the gunboat Macao have been pierced by bullets in several places. It was little short of miraculous that the fusillade directed by the Chinese against the little gun-vessel did not account for any casualty on the naval side.

Prizes of War.

The exact number of the captured prisoners by the Portuguese has not yet been definitely ascertained, but a rough estimate places the number of known prisoners now in Macao at about twenty. Besides arms and ammunition the Portuguese troops have come in for three valuable prizes of war in the shape of three Chinese junks which were brought into the Inner Harbour from Colowan on Friday in tow of the Shaohai tow-boat. These junks were the galleys of the pirate horde. Large numbers of men had got on board at Colowan and were in the act of shoving off when they were discovered by the Portuguese troops. Foiled in their attempt to escape the natives jumped off the decks ashore again and ran for their lives in all directions into shelter. Abandoned, the three boats were captured by the Portuguese as prizes of war and towed across the bay to Macao.

News gathering.

The Naval Jetty and all along the bund is full of people anxious to get every scrap of first news which they promptly retail in the City. The arrival of every launch, or any despatch vessel, from Colowan, is the signal for a rush to the Naval Camber. But as the officials even down to the subordinates are under pain of penalty to observe judicious reticence the purveyors of news, specially of the raw novice type, is invariably doomed to disappointment.

Pirates identified.

The eighteen men, who were brought manacled to Macao, on Friday, having been made prisoners at Colowan, and who are in safe custody in the military prison of Monte Fort have since been identified by at least two of their former captives. A Chinese boy, who had been held to ransom and was since rescued by his deliverers, the Portuguese, was taken to Monte and there without any hesitation pointed out his erstwhile tormentors. The prisoners stoutly denied the charges alleged against them before the lad whom the little youngster, emboldened by the presence of the armed escort, called out aloud: "Hut-lo, see Hai chik!" meanwhile keeping his index finger in front of the quivering countenances of the contemptible wretch now held in duress. The lad's ejaculatory exclamation was: "Yes, that is the man. He is the robber!" Others of the gang were identified by an old, old man, who had been held in captivity pending the payment of a large sum of money which had been demanded as the price of his life by the brigands from his well-to-do son who is said to be in business at Macao.

Story of the Kidnapping.

The youthful witness just mentioned tells a graphic story of how he was kidnapped. One day he was at the Macao wharf of the ferry to Taipa and Colowan. He was inquiring for the launch to take him to his native place when he was accosted by a man who declared himself to be a friend willing to help take him to his village home. The boy was accordingly persuaded to follow the stranger to the Colowan launch, arriving at the destination the unsuspecting youth declined to disembark, declaring that that was not the landing place of his ancestral village. Whereupon his would-be guide and friend unmasked his villainy and told the now affrighted boy that if he refused to follow him he would be done to death then and there. The same fate would befall him, even if he attempted to raise an alarm. Of the two evils the boy, who by this time was terror-stricken beyond words, meekly accepted the less and obeyed the relentless injunction of his tyrant. He was taken to a Chinese house in a village at Colowan and there at once ordered into the kitchen where he was to turn a useful hand in the scullery department of his unwilling captivity. In servile bondage thus the boy remained and became the victim of the worst tortures as it suited the whimsical wrath of his master. When the boy demurred to any loathsome task to which he had been ordered, he was forcibly held and bound by the arms and hoisted to the ceiling and there hung until it pleased the savage inhumanity of his captor to release him. This and other sufferings the boy had had to undergo when the dreadful sound of infantry fire of Tuesday last announced to him amidst a scene of gory revelry his joyous deliverance from a bondage that was more terrible than death.

Cruiser recalled.

The cruiser Pasco de Gama, which left Hongkong not long ago on a cruise in Japan waters and subsequently proceeded to Daloy and Port Arthur, has been recalled to Macao by telegram. She is expected to arrive any time.

The San Gabriel, which is on a cruise round the world, is also expected here shortly and will at once proceed to join the Portuguese Squadron at Colowan. So that the fighting units of the Portuguese will be represented by—
Pasco de Gama (Flagship),
San Gabriel,
Rainha Dona Amelia,
Patia, and
Macao.

[The above report was printed in a special Sunday edition of the Hongkong Telegraph and issued to subscribers gratis the same evening—Ed. H.K.T.]

Military Demonstration at Wong Kam.

[From an Occasional Correspondent.]

Macao, 16th July, 8 p.m.

The presence of the Chinese flotilla in Portuguese waters and the demonstration of the military force at Wong Kam are susceptible of misinterpretations. The reasons I assign for both are—

1.—To surround and capture any pirates if, by any chance, they manage to elude the naval cordon.
2.—To prevent the escape of the pirates to Chinese territory in Wong Kam upon their pursuit by our forces.

3.—To demonstrate China's preparedness to place an effective force upon a war footing at any given moment whether on land or at sea. The Commander of the Chinese naval forces had talks with His Excellency the Governor yesterday. He confers with the Portuguese authorities in almost all matters concerning the blockade of Colowan and has rendered great services in establishing the cordon by sea with his fourteen war vessels, launches included, so as to prevent the escape of any junk from Colowan.

To-day was to have been the day for a renewal of hostilities against the pirates, but nothing eventuated. Yesterday was a day of rest for the Portuguese troops who badly needed it. Fifteen prisoners were landed at Macao yesterday; they have been identified by the rescued children.

The correspondent of a Hongkong newspaper applied for permission to the Governor to proceed to Colowan to gather information for his paper. The permission was refused.

The people of Macao are loud in their praise of the invaluable services rendered by the gunboat Macao both on the part of her Commander, Senhor Matta Oliveira and his First-Lieutenant, Senhor Altouguia Pinto Basto.

KULANGSU (AMOI) MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

Minutes of a meeting of the Council, held at the Board Room, on the 28th June, 1910.
Present:—Messrs. W. Knive, (Chairman), J. S. Foxwick, C. Lee, Lim Nee Kar, J. Macanini, K. Tschirabara, the Health Officer and the Secretary.

1. The minutes of the meetings held on the 14th and 21st June are read and confirmed.
2. A despatch is read from the Consular Body enclosing correspondence which has passed between the Senior Consul and the Chinese authorities regarding the removal of water from Kulangsu to places outside of the Settlement. In reply it is decided to inform the Consular Body that the Council is desirous of meeting the wishes of the Chinese officials in this matter as far as possible, and therefore request the Senior Consul to communicate the following to the Haifaoting:—

(a) That, as nearly all the foreigners on Kulangsu derive their water supply from private wells, the question hardly affects them, and the proclamation has therefore been issued principally in the interests of the Chinese residents within the Settlement.

(b) That the proclamation issued by the Council on the 20th inst. prohibiting the removal of water from all wells to places outside the Settlement, be modified as follows:—

Water for Amoy may be taken from the wells at Pak-tai, below Mr. Marshall's house, owned by Ng Lai, and from those under the trees at Lai-choo-oh, owned by Ng Nai Chuan, but from their wells alone. From all other wells the prohibition stands good. Further the Council considers that as this is only a temporary measure, and not likely to last long, it will be quite fair for the Haifaoting to make such arrangements with the owners as will ensure that all water boats from Amoy obtain their supply from these wells, and not limit the use of the wells to two or three boats and so create a monopoly.

(c) In thus meeting the wishes of the Chinese in Amoy, the Council desires to record that they in no way forfeit their right to prohibit the removal of water from all wells on Kulangsu whenever the Council considers such a course necessary in the interests of the inhabitants of the Settlement.

The Council is prepared to issue, if the above meets with the approval of the Consular Body and the Chinese officials, a modified proclamation accordingly.

3.—Correspondence which has passed between Mr. Lim Hock Siew and the Council, concerning blasting, is read.

4.—A letter from Mr. Lim Pi Sin, concerning the erection of a private telephone wire to connect his house with the house of a relative, is read. He is to be requested to furnish the Council with a plan showing where he proposes to erect his poles.

5. Ten days' leave of absence, on urgent private affairs, is granted to the Secretary.

6. The Council proceeded to view the site of the Band the Amoy Tinning Co. propose to erect on the water front at their premises, and the site of a house for which Mr. Loo See Tong has applied for a building permit.

7. The Capt. Supt. reports that the following cases have been dealt with at the Mixed Court since the meeting on the 14th inst.:—Summons:—Debt 3, Assault 3, Throwing rubbish, &c. into the public drains 4, Illegal sale of land 1, Breach of prison regulations 2, Failing to comply with the Municipal proclamation concerning the removal of water 1. Summary Arrests:—Theft 3, Breach of Prison Regulations 4, Attempting to remove water from the Settlement contrary to Municipal proclamation forbidding same 2.

(Signed), W. KNIVE, Chairman.

By order, C. BRACKLEY MITCHELL, Secretary.

ALLEGED MANSLAUGHTER.

CASE WITHDRAWN AT THE CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

Before the Chief Justice, Sir Francis Pigott, at the Criminal Sessions this morning Kwok Sing and Wong Yat Kwong were charged with the alleged manslaughter of a man named Chao Sun at Causeway Bay on the 27th June last. Mr. W. Rees-Davies, K. C., Acting Attorney-General, instructed by Mr. H. L. Dennis, Sr., from the Crown Solicitor's office, prosecuted. Prisoners were undefended.

The following were sworn in as jurors:—Messrs. W. T. Stebbing (foreman), A. J. da Cruz Rosa, A. J. Richards, D. T. Steel, A. J. Bursley, J. B. Scott and W. Taylor.

The Attorney-General stated that the two prisoners were charged with the manslaughter of a man named Chan Chun at Yau-ma-tei. The act took place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the day in question. The case for the prosecution rested chiefly on the evidence of two men. The deceased was attacked outside the theatre. The first prisoner struck the deceased several blows with a bamboo pole and the second prisoner threw stones at the deceased, which caused a rupture of the spleen. The doctor would say that death was either due to the blows or was the result of a fall. The victim was taken to the Yau-ma-tei hospital in an ambulance but died before the arrival of the doctor. The prosecution did not know the cause of the assault and there was no motive as far as they could ascertain which could have led up to it but it was usual for such a thing to happen among Chinese coolies. The first prisoner said he had a quarrel with the chief witness and that was how the charge was brought against him. The second prisoner said he was not there at all. It was purely a question of credit—whether the jury would believe the witnesses or not.

In the course of the evidence, his Lordship said he had grave doubts about the case.

The Attorney-General—I'm in your Lordship's hands. I frankly admit if prisoners were represented by Counsel it would have been an easy case to defend.

The Chief Justice—I think the case should be withdrawn.

The prisoners were then discharged.

CANTON OPIUM TAX.

The Bombay correspondent of The Times sends the following telegram, dated 10th ult.:—

The opium market is excited and disturbed on account of the action of China in holding dealers in raw opium responsible for the collection of new duties on prepared opium. The measure is regarded as a dodge invented by the Viceroy of Canton for the purpose of introducing a monopoly and as a breach of the Treaty of Chifu. The Government of India is supporting the protests of local merchants, but the British Consul-General in Canton is reported to have refused his assistance. The effects of the Chinese action on the opium trade are disastrous. In consequence of the risks involved dealers have ceased trading in opium, and the market is extremely congested, 10,000 untold chests lying with merchants in India and China. Prices are completely broken, Patna falling from 3,500 rupees in April to 2,300 in June. The unanimous opinion is that the Government ought to stop opium sales until the situation is cleared, and that the British Government should put a stop to the harassing manner of collecting the tax. Unless this is done the Indian revenues will suffer considerably, and merchants will be involved in heavy losses.

CANTON-KOWLOON RAILWAY.

QUESTIONS IN PARLIAMENT.

On the 22nd ult., in the House of Commons, Mr. Ginnell asked the Under-Secretary for the Colonies if he would say who were the consulting engineers of the Canton-Kowloon Railway; whether they acted in that capacity in connection with the Shanghai-Nanking Railway, the Hongkong Railway, and the Johore Railway, all lines that could never pay owing to the cost of construction; whether the late chief British accountant was the nominee of those engineers; whether the amount of his embezzlements had yet been ascertained; and whether any steps were being taken to recover that amount from his nominators.

Colonel Seely: The consulting engineers are Sir J. Wolfe Barry and Partners. The consulting engineers for the Johore Railway are Messrs. Gregory, Eyles, and Waring. I have no information as to the Shanghai-Nanking Railway. I cannot accept the statement that either the Hongkong or the Johore railway can never pay. As I informed the hon. gentleman on Nov. 25, the Colonial Office is not concerned with the doings of the late chief accountant on the Chinese section of the line.

Mr. Ginnell asked whether His Majesty's Government was in possession of independent evidence that the Canton-Kowloon Railway could never properly pay its cost of construction and working expenses; that it was being forced through merely for the resuscitation of Hongkong at the expense of the Chinese government; and that it had already cost £16,000 per mile; and whether, in these circumstances, a further loan for its completion would have the approval of the Colonial Office?

Colonel Seely: The answer to the first two parts of the hon. gentleman's question is in the negative. I have not the exact figures as to the cost of the line to date, and so question of a further loan for its completion has arisen.
